The Sixth Text Retrieval Conference (TREC-6) / ed. by E.M. Voorhees and D.K. Harman (Orig. en). - Gaithersburg, MD : National institute of standards. Information Technology Laboratory, 1998. - : Ill. ; 28 cm. - (NIST Special Publication ; 500-240). - Refs.

»» Proceedings of the 6th TREC-conference held in Gaithersburg, Maryland (USA), November 19-21, 1996. Aim of the conference was discussion on retrieval techniques for large test collection. 51 research groups used different techniques, such as automatic thesauri, term weighting, natural language techniques, relevance feedback and advanced pattern matching, for information retrieval from the same large database. This procedure makes it possible to compare the results. The proceedings includes papers, tables of the system results, and brief system descriptions including timing and storage information.

»» Points out that designers of information systems for subject retrieval aiming at some kind of universal usage face the major problem of context, as a word by itself is not meaningful; and inseparable from this problem is that of the terminology used. This problem is most evident in systems that rely totally on words, rather than a systematic structure of some kind.
