

About the Authors

Mirlinda Batalli Prof. Dr. sc. is Professor of Administrative Law and Administrative Procedure in the Law Faculty of Prishtina University in Kosovo. Her professional career and research is mostly focused on reform in public administration, particularly on the impact of ICT and several dimensions of computerised administration on the provision of more efficient, effective, qualitative, accountable and lower-cost services. She is the author of several articles in the field, published inside and outside Kosovo. e-mail: mirlindabatalli@gmail.com.

Marsida Feshti (Muça) is a PhD candidate and Lecturer in Law at the University 'Aleksandër Moisiu', Durrës, Albania. e-mail: mars_i_muca@yahoo.it

Artan Fejzullahu MSc is a PhD candidate in the Faculty of Law of Prishtina University, Kosovo, where he lectures on 'Introduction to Law' courses and is also a mentor for students. e-mail: artan.fejzullahu@aab-edu.net.

Ela Golemi PhD is Dean of the Faculty of Integrated Studies with Practise/FASTIP at the University 'Aleksandër Moisiu', Durrës, Albania. e-mail: golemiela31@yahoo.com.

Rajko Kosanović PhD is Head of the Department of Economic and Social Affairs at the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Unions of Serbia. He holds a doctoral degree in legal-economic sciences and has been a member of numerous expert teams and committees that have drafted acts of law and bylaws. He has published over 250 papers in the economy of public health service, the legal regulation of the health care system, macroeconomic policy and labour rights.

Lyuboslav Kostov PhD is Assistant Professor in the Department of Economics of the University of the National and World Economy (UNWE), Sofia, as well as Economic Analyst for the Institute for Social and Trade Union Research of the Confederation of Independent Trade Unions in Bulgaria (CITUB). e-mail: lkostov@citub.net.

Gabriele Lombardo PhD in Public, Comparative and International Law teaches a curriculum on international order and human rights at the University 'Sapienza' of Rome. His research interests include international law and human rights, geopolitics, the crises in Libya and Syria, and the consequences of humanitarian and migratory crises. e-mail: gablombardo@unime.it.

Sanja Paunović PhD is Economic Counsellor to the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Unions of Serbia. She received her PhD in Philosophy at Singidunum University with a thesis which focused on the role of the IMF during the economic crisis. She has authored several books and written over ninety articles. She is also a current member of the Permanent Social Protection Committee of the European Trade Union Confederation.

Greta Petriti MSc is a recently-qualified lawyer in Albania. e-mail: gretapetriti@yahoo.com.

Enisa Salimović is Team Co-ordinator and legal adviser in the south-east European office, Sarajevo, of the Pan-European Regional Council of the International Trade Union Confederation. She is a trained and experienced lawyer. e-mail: enisa.salimovic@ituc-csi.ba.

Bruno S. Sergi teaches emerging markets and the political economies of Russia and China at Harvard University. He is an Associate of the Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies of Harvard University and a Faculty Affiliate of the Institute for Quantitative Social Science. He is also a Professor in international economics at the University of Messina, an Associate Editor of The American Economist and co-founder and Scientific Director of the International Centre for Emerging Markets in Moscow. Bruno is also a member of the Editorial Board of the SEER Journal for Labour and Social Affairs in Eastern Europe. e-mail: bsergi@unime.it.

Zoran Stojiljković is President of the Trade Union Confederation 'Nezavisnost'. He graduated from, and received his master's and doctoral degrees at, the Faculty of Political Science in Belgrade, where he works as a full professor. He is the author of 150 articles and monographs, and eight books, and is the independent or co-author of numerous conference proceedings. His research interests lie in the political sociology of modern society, contemporary state theory, parties and party systems, corruption and anti-corruption strategies and trade unions and civil society.

Kozeta Vuksanlekaj is a PhD candidate of the State University of Prishtinë, Kosovo, in the constitutional-administrative field. She qualified as a lawyer from the Justice Faculty of the University 'Luigj Gurakuqi', Shkodër, and has been employed as such in the public administration of the Regional Council of Shkodër for more than seventeen years, participating in a number of seminars and international events and recently project managing EU directives on public procurement. She is also the author of a number of professional scientific articles. e-mail: kozetafrangaj@gmail.com.