

About the Authors

Evelyn Astor is a Policy Officer in the Economic and Social Policy Department of the International Trade Union Confederation. Formerly, she was Policy Officer in the Social Investment Strategy Unit of DG Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion in the European Commission. Evelyn has an MSc in Social Policy and Planning from the London School of Economics and Political Science. e-mail: evelyn.astor@ituc-csi.org.

Snjezana Balokovic is a civil servant in the Ministry of Labour and Pension System of the Republic of Croatia. She has more than 35 years of professional experience in social security, predominantly pension insurance. She was a member of the Working Group for EU negotiations with Croatia in the chapter on the free movement of workers and has participated in various EU projects in the same area after the accession of Croatia to the EU. In 2018, she was team leader on an EU project on the free movement of workers in Montenegro, aiming to help Montenegrin administration be better prepared for negotiations with the EU.

Gabriella Berki is Assistant Professor in social security law at the University of Szeged (Hungary) and a visiting lecturer at Sorbonne University (France). She holds a joint PhD from the University of Szeged and Ghent University (Belgium). Her research work has focused on the legal issues of European patient mobility, resulting in the publication Free Movement of Patients in the EU. A Patient's Perspective. For her efforts to make these complex issues understandable to a wider public, she was awarded third prize in the 2018 contest 'Altiero Spinelli Prize for Outreach: Spreading Knowledge about Europe', launched by the European Commission.

Arzu Çerkezoğlu Dr. has been President of DİSK, the Confederation of Progressive Trade Unions of Turkey, since 2018, following a stint as the organisation's General Secretary since 2013. She graduated from the Faculty of Medicine of Istanbul University Faculty, practising as a general practitioner before completing her specialisation in pathology in 2004. Previously in her trade union career she was President of the Union of Health and Social Workers (SES) for three terms. She is a member of the ETUC's Executive Committee.

Frederic De Wispelaere is research expert at HIVA Research Institute for Work and Society – KU Leuven (Belgium). He holds a Master in Business Administration (EHSAL – Brussels) and a Master in corporate law (Ghent University – Law Faculty). His main fields of research are social protection, intra-EU labour mobility, EU coordination of social security systems and (cross-border) social fraud. Since 2013 he has been a member of Network Statistics on free movement of workers, social security coordination and fraud and error, set up by the European Commission to collect and analyse statistics on these three fields covering all EU-28 and EFTA countries. e-mail: frederic.dewispelaere@kuleuven.be.

Marie-Christin Falker is a research associate at Teichmann International (Switzerland) AG in St. Gallen, Switzerland. She possesses an undergraduate degree in English and American Culture and Business Studies, focusing particularly on international management and marketing (Kassel University, Germany). Her main research interests include compliance, money laundering, corruption, terrorism financing, sanctions, bribery and the links between these issues.

Marsida Feshti (Muça) is a PhD candidate and Lecturer in Law at the University 'Aleksandër Moisiu', Durrës, Albania. e-mail: marsi_muca@yahoo.it.

Ela Golemi PhD is Dean of the Faculty of Integrated Studies with Practice at the University 'Aleksandër Moisiu', Durrës, Albania, and Professor of Macroeconomics and International Economics. Her research interests focus mainly on the issues related to the stability of the financial system and the regional strategies of the western Balkans for integration in the European Union. e-mail: egolemi@fastip.ed.al.

Jurgen Golemi is a Lecturer in Law at the University 'Aleksandër Moisiu', Durrës, Albania. e-mail: Jurgengolemi@yahoo.com.

Cvetan Kovač has two bachelor degrees in traffic engineering and safety engineering. He is the co-ordinator of the Occupational Health & Safety Committee of the Independent Trade Unions of Croatia, engaged in promoting the role and importance of workers' representatives, OHS representatives, works councils and trade unions within various business systems in Croatia. He is the author and co-author of a significant number of scientific and professional papers, while the Ministry of Labour and Pension System awarded him its Occupational Health and Safety Prize in 2015.

Ivana Krišto PhD is Lecturer in the Faculty of Metallurgy, University of Zagreb. She is an active participant in scientific and professional events, as well as author and co-author of many scientific and professional papers in occupational health and safety. Her educational qualifications are in engineering, and she is also Vice-President of the European Society of Safety Engineers. The Ministry of Labour and Pension System awarded her its Occupational Health and Safety Prize in 2017.

Klodian Muço PhD is Lecturer in Economics at the University 'Aleksandër Moisiu', Durrës, Albania. He is well-published on Albania and the Balkans more widely, with research interests encompassing foreign direct investment, economic development, EU integration, and monetary and fiscal policies. e-mail: kmuco@fastip.edu.al.

Ana Šijaković Ec. S. teaches postgraduate occupational health and sports medicine in the Medical School of the University of Zagreb and ŠNZ Andrija Štampar, Zagreb. She is an economic specialist and has a bachelor degree in safety engineering, and is General Secretary of the European Society of Safety Engineers. She is the author and co-author of many scientific and professional papers and a regular participant in academic and professional events in occupational health and safety. The Ministry of Labour and Pension System awarded her its Occupational Health and Safety Prize in 2019.

Fabian Teichmann Dr. iur. Dr. rer. pol. LLM is an attorney-at-law and public notary at Teichmann International (Switzerland) AG, in St. Gallen, Switzerland. He also holds a PhD in law (University of Zurich, Switzerland), a PhD in economics and social sciences (Kassel University, Germany) and an LLM (King's College, UK). He further manages consulting companies in England, Liechtenstein and the United Arab Emirates, and teaches courses on compliance, corruption, money laundering and terrorism financing at various universities. He has authored numerous books and scientific articles.