

Call for Papers

The Journal for Business, Economics & Ethics / Zeitschrift für Wirtschafts- und Unternehmensethik (zfwu) is a scholarly journal. Through its interdisciplinary theoretical and practical orientation at the crossroads of economics and (practical) philosophy, it primarily provides the discipline as well as interested representatives of business, politics and other relevant institutions with a high level business ethics discussion forum. The zfwu is published three times a year. As a general rule, issues focus on a lead topic; however, they offer enough room for the publication of articles that do not specifically address the lead topic. Each issue opens with a “main article” by a renowned scholar followed by more “contributions”. As a rule, the articles are the subject of critical commentaries. The languages of publication are German and English.

Volume 8 (2007)

zfwu 8/3, special issue on: Business Ethics and Management Science

Deadline for submissions: 31.07.2007.

The focus of this issue is on the interdependency between business ethics and management science. The guest editor of this number is Prof. Dr. Michael Abländer (University of Kassel, Germany), working in collaboration with Dr. Thomas Beschorner (University of Oldenburg, Germany) and Prof. Dr. Dr. Alexander Brink (University of Bayreuth, Germany) of the zfwu.

Volume 9 (2008)

zfwu 9/1, special issue on: Economic Ethics and 3rd Sector?

Deadline for submissions: 31.11.2007.

The focus of this issue is on the so called 3rd sector, which is the most expanding area next to the economy and the state. The 3rd sector has special characteristics (e.g. no profit-maximizing, voluntary work, special “mission”) that are a challenge for economic ethics. Editor of this number is Dr. Bettina Hollstein (Max-Weber-Kolleg, University of Erfurt)
