

List of Authors

Veronika Bílková

Dr. Bílková is an associate professor in International Law at the Faculty of Law of the Charles University and head of the Centre for International Law at the Institute of International Relations in Prague. She is member of the Venice Commission of the Council of Europe and the Managerial Board of the EU Fundamental Rights Agency. She is also Secretary-General of the European Society of International Law (ESIL). Her research focus on human rights, international humanitarian law, the use of force and theory of international law.

Katharina Braun

Katharina Braun is a PhD candidate at Freie Universität Berlin. In her thesis, she analyses the link between democratic theory, human rights, and animal law. Prior to that, she interned at the International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals in The Hague. She passed the first state examination in law and obtained an LL.M. in Human Rights & Social Justice from the University of Connecticut School of Law.

Robert Frau

Dr. Robert Frau is associate professor (Privatdozent) for Public Law, European Law and International Law at the European University Viadrina in Frankfurt (Oder) and currently visiting professor (Lehrstuhlvertreter) at Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich. He has been a visiting professor at the Universities of Leipzig, Potsdam, Berlin, Marburg and Heidelberg and is visiting professor at the German University Cairo as well as the Marshall Center for European Security Studies in Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

Hanaa Hakiki

Hanaa Hakiki is a senior legal advisor in the Migration Program of the European Center for Constitutional and Human Rights (ECCHR). Since 2014 she focuses on litigating pushbacks. She qualified as a solicitor in England, where she specialized in litigating cases of state abuse. She graduated in law at the University of Cambridge and holds a maîtrise in comparative law from the University of Paris II.

Beti Hohler

Beti Hohler is a Trial Lawyer in the Office of the Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court, and co-founder of the Institute for International Legal and Advocacy Training in The Hague. From 2011 until 2015 she worked as a Legal Officer in the EU Rule of Law Mission in Kosovo. She is also an Associate Editor with the Oxford Reports on International Law in Domestic Courts and a member of the ILA's Committee on Complementarity in International Criminal Law. Beti holds a master degree in law from University of Ljubljana, and an LLM in International and European Law from University of Amsterdam.

Stefanie Lemke

Dr. Stefanie Lemke is a socio-legal scholar and senior legal adviser with a 15 years work experience in the fields of human rights and rule of law in UN, EU and other donor funded projects. She holds a PhD from Oxford, London and Cologne Universities and has worked with governments, leading academic institutions, commercial law firms and prominent NGOs. She is a specialist in justice sector reform. As an expert, she serves on missions on behalf of the UNDP, the Council of Europe and the European Commission. She is the founder of the rule of law speaker series EnRoL! Her latest book is "Human Rights Lawyering in Europa".

Helga Molbæk-Steensig

Helga Molbæk-Steensig is a PhD-researcher at the European University Institute. Her dissertation deals with legitimacy challenges and political pressure on the European Court of Human Rights.

Jacopo Roberti di Sarsina

Dr. Jacopo Roberti di Sarsina is a Member of the Legal Service (CFSP and External Relations Team) at the European Commission. He is a Subject Matter Expert in International Law at the Alma Mater Studiorum – University of Bologna School of Law, and a dual-qualified lawyer (Italy and New York State). He was a Visiting Professional (Chambers) at the International Criminal Court. He holds a PhD in Public International Law, label Doctor Europaeus, from the School of International Studies, University of Trento, an LL.M. from the NYU School of Law, and read law summa cum laude at the University of Bologna. His first monograph entitled "Transitional Justice and a State's Response to Mass Atrocity" was published in 2019.

Stephanie Schiedermaier

Prof. Dr. Stephanie Schiedermaier holds the chair of European Law, Public International Law and Public Law at Leipzig University since 2014. From 1996 to 2001 she studied law, German, political science and history in Dresden and Mainz (2001 first state examination in law). She wrote her habilitation in 2012 at the Faculty of Law and Economics at Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz (Venia legendi for Public Law, International Law, European Law and Media Law).

Christiane Schmaltz

Dr. Christiane Schmaltz is a Justice at the German Federal Court of Justice (BGH). She studied law in Göttingen, where she received her doctorate, and at the University of Virginia, where she earned her Master of Laws. Previously she worked as a lawyer at an international law firm, as a judge at the Court of Appeals in Schleswig and as a clerk at the Federal Constitutional Court in Karlsruhe. Following a secondment to the Registry of the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) she was designated Ad hoc Judge for Germany at the ECtHR in 2011.

Alexander Schwarz

Dr. Alexander Schwarz is a Senior Legal Advisor for the German Society for International Cooperation (GIZ) in Tunisia. Previously, he worked as Senior Research Fellow and Lecturer at the chair for European Law, International Law and Public Law at Leipzig University and at the Max-Planck-Institute for International Law in Heidelberg. He served as a Visiting Fellow at the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law at Cambridge University. Schwarz holds a law degree from the University of Heidelberg and clerked with the Court of Appeals in Dresden. His dissertation entitled “Prosecution of Sexual and Gender-Based Violence at the International Criminal Court” was published in 2019.

Barbara Sonczyk

Dr. Barbara Sonczyk is a Lecturer in Public International Law at The Hague University of Applied Sciences and an IHRL Reporter at Oxford University Press. Before joining THUAS, Barbara taught law at several universities in the UK, including University of Westminster, University College London and University of Bedfordshire. Her working experience includes also placements at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, the International Criminal Court and the United Nations HQ. She holds master degrees in law and sociology from University of Warsaw, an LLM in International and European Law from University of Amsterdam and a Ph.D. in International Law from University of Westminster.

Dominik Steiger

Prof. Dr. Dominik Steiger holds the chair of Public International Law, European Law and Public Law at Technische Universität Dresden since 2018. Before taking up the position in Dresden, he was a Professor of International Law at KU Leuven (Belgium) and Open Universiteit (The Netherlands). Dominik Steiger has been a visiting fellow/professor at the Universities of Leipzig, Stellenbosch, and the Western Cape, at Monash University and Auckland University of Technology as well as an Emile Noël Fellow at New York University. His research and publications focus inter alia on digitalization and international law, democracy, human rights law, international criminal law, humanitarian law, and United Nations law.

Edith Wagner

Edith is a Research Fellow at the Max Planck Institute Luxembourg for Procedural Law in the Department of European and Comparative Procedural Law. She is part of the Max Planck Research School for Successful Dispute Resolution in International Law. Her doctoral research focuses on the European Court of Human Rights, where she completed a traineeship and engaged in extensive fieldwork. Edith received her LL.M. degree from the Yale Law School, where she served as an editor for the Yale Journal of International Law and the Yale Journal on Regulation.

Alain Zysset

Alain Zysset is a Senior Lecturer in Public Law at the School of Law, University of Glasgow and currently Senior Research Fellow in Legal Theory at PluriCourts (2021–23), University of Oslo. Before joining Glasgow, he was an Assistant Professor in Public Law and Human Rights at Durham University. Alain holds graduate degrees in Philosophy (LSE), History (Graduate Institute Geneva) and Law (University of Toronto). His research is located at the intersection of political theory and human rights law.