Matthias Lippold

The Interrelationship of the Sources of Public International Law

Beiträge zum ausländischen öffentlichen Recht und Völkerrecht

Edited by the Max Planck Society for the Advancement of Science represented by Prof. Dr. Armin von Bogdandy and Prof. Dr. Anne Peters

Volume 323

Matthias Lippold

The Interrelationship of the Sources of Public International Law

Open Access funding provided by Niedersachsen-Konsortium.

The Deutsche Nationalbibliothek lists this publication in the Deutsche Nationalbibliografie; detailed bibliographic data are available on the Internet at http://dnb.d-nb.de a.t.: Göttingen, Univ., Diss., 2020

ISBN 978-3-7560-0234-4 (Print) 978-3-7489-3757-9 (ePDF)

British Library Cataloguing-in-Publication Data

A catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library.

ISBN 978-3-7560-0234-4 (Print) 978-3-7489-3757-9 (ePDF)

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Lippold, Matthias

The Interrelationship of the Sources of Public International Law Matthias Lippold

843 pp.

Includes bibliographic references and index.

ISBN 978-3-7560-0234-4 (Print) 978-3-7489-3757-9 (ePDF)

1st Edition 2024

© Matthias Lippold

Published by

Nomos Verlagsgesellschaft mbH & Co. KG Waldseestraße 3–5 | 76530 Baden-Baden

www.nomos.de

Production of the printed version: Nomos Verlagsgesellschaft mbH & Co. KG Waldseestraße 3–5 | 76530 Baden-Baden

ISBN 978-3-7560-0234-4 (Print) ISBN 978-3-7489-3757-9 (ePDF)

DOI https://doi.org/10.5771/9783748937579

This work is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.

Online Version Nomos eLibrary

Preface

This book is a revised and updated version of my doctoral thesis which I defended at the Faculty of Law of the University of Göttingen in October 2020.

I would like to thank my academic teacher and the supervisor of this thesis, Professor Andreas Paulus, former Justice of the Federal Constitutional Court, for his constant support, encouragement and academic guidance. He has influenced my thinking about international law in many ways. He also directed my attention to the topic of this thesis.

I would like to thank Professor Peter-Tobias Stoll for providing the second review and Professor Frank Schorkopf for chairing the oral examination. I am grateful for the insightful comments and suggestions I received in the two written reviews and during the defense of the thesis.

I am also grateful to the whole community at the Göttingen Institute of International and European Law for creating a great atmosphere and an inspiring research environment; in particular, I thank the team of the Institute's library.

Outside Göttingen, I am grateful for stimulating discussions on international legal scholarship with my classmates and professors during my LL.M. year at New York University. I thank Professor Georg Nolte, now Judge at the International Court of Justice, for accepting me as an intern during the sixty-sixth ILC session and for the insights into the work of the ILC. I thank Professor Mads Andenæs for inviting me to participate in workshops in Geneva and Paris dedicated to the sources of international law and in particular general principles of law. I thank the participants of both workshops and the organizers and participants of the 2016 ESIL Research Forum in Istanbul. I am grateful for all the comments, feedback, inspirations and for the exchange of views on international law and its sources.

Professor Armin von Bogdandy and Professor Anne Peters accepted this book into the prestigious Beiträge zum ausländischen öffentlichen Recht und Völkerrecht series of the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg, for which I am much obliged.

I gratefully acknowledge the financial support received for my doctoral research from the Studienstiftung des deutschen Volkes. The Niedersachsen-Konsortium generously supported the publication of this book. The doctoral dissertation underlying this book received the Faculty Prize of the Juristische Gesellschaft zu Kassel in the winter term 2020/2021.

Finally, I would like to thank my friends and I would like to thank my family. My deepest gratitude goes to my parents for their patience and their continuous, unconditional and generous support.

Göttingen, September 2023

Lis	st of A	Abb	reviations	19
A.	Intr	odu	action
Ch	apter	1: $	Setting the Scene	25
A.	The	con	ceptual framework	26
	I.	Th	e plurality of sources and the architecture of public
			ernational law	27
		1.	The General Law of Treaties	28
			a. Different codification approaches	29
			b. The rules of treaty interpretation and their relationship with customary international law	32
		2.	The law of international responsibility	36
	II.	Tra	aditional approaches to the relationship of sources	41
		1.	The relationship between sources	41
		2.	The relationship between the norms of different sources	44
		3.	The relationship between formal sources and material
			sources	45
	III.	Th	e Politics as to the sources: Source preferences in the
		int	ernational community	47
		1.	Source preferences and the spirit of the time	49
		2.	Source preferences and the changed composition of the legal community	50
		3.	Source preferences and the substantive expansion and diversification of international law	53
	IV.	Th	e Concept of interrelationship of sources and the scope of thi	s study	56
		1.	The interrelationship of sources	56
		2.	Benefits of a focus on the interrelationship of sources in international practice	60
		3.	Contribution of an analysis of the interrelationship of sources to the doctrine relating to each source	62
			a. Customary international law	62

		b. General principles of law	65
		c. Treaties	70
	V.	Situating the present study	72
		1. The work of the ILC	73
		2. Sociological perspectives: the proliferation of norms and socializing states	78
B.	Stru	acture of this study	86
	I.	Comparative-historical perspectives	86
	II.	Institutional perspectives	90
	III.	Perspectives on different normative contexts	91
	IV.	Doctrinal perspectives: revisiting the doctrine of sources	93
R.	Cor	nparative and historical perspectives
	Con	inpurative and instorical perspectives
Ch	apter	2: Comparative Perspectives	97
A.	Intro	oduction: The interrelationship of sources in comparative
	lega	ıl thought	97
В.	Exa	mple: The common law and the interrelationship of unwritten and	written law	103
	I.	The Historic discourse of the relationship between the common law and the written law in the United Kingdom	105
		1. Different law preferences: William Blackstone and Jeremy Bentham	106
		2. John Austin and the will of the sovereign as source of all
		law	109
		3. Subsequent perspectives in UK legal theory: Thomas
		Holland, H.L.A. Hart and Brian Simpson	111
	II.	The historic discussion of the relationship between unwritten law and the written law in the United States of America	113
		Roscoe Pound	115
		Rosece Found     Benjamin Cardozo	117
		3. Lon Fuller	118
	III.	A new interest in the interplay between common law and	110
	111.	statutory law in the recent UK jurisprudence	120
		Common law as human rights law	120
		_	123
		2. Common law in light of human rights  2. Concluding Observations	125
$\Gamma$	Evra	3. Concluding Observations  mple: German law and the interrelationship of sources	125
1	r.xa	midle: German law and the interretationship of sources	1/1

1. Friedrich Carl von Savigny 2. Georg Friedrich Puchta 11. The declining relevance of custom 1. Rudolf von Jhering's critique and the codification of civil law 2. Approaches prior to the Basic Law 3. Approaches under the Basic law 137  D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective 1. General principles in legal theory: an overview 1. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles 1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response 2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles 11. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles 15. Concluding Observations 15. Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute 15. Introduction 15. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law 15. Introduction 15. The background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 1. The background of the conferences 11. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 15. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 16. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 1. General principles of law 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 15. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 1. The PCIJ 1. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the sources		I.	The historical school	127
II. The declining relevance of custom  1. Rudolf von Jhering's critique and the codification of civil law  2. Approaches prior to the Basic Law  3. Approaches under the Basic law  137  D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective  I. General principles in legal theory: an overview  II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  144  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  1. The PCIJ  1. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			1. Friedrich Carl von Savigny	128
1. Rudolf von Jhering's critique and the codification of civil law  2. Approaches prior to the Basic Law  3. Approaches under the Basic law  137  D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective  I. General principles in legal theory: an overview  II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			2. Georg Friedrich Puchta	129
1. Rudolf von Jhering's critique and the codification of civil law  2. Approaches prior to the Basic Law  3. Approaches under the Basic law  137  D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective  I. General principles in legal theory: an overview  II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		II.	The declining relevance of custom	131 law 2. Approaches prior to the Basic Law 133 3. Approaches under the Basic law 137 D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective 138 I. General principles in legal theory: an overview 140 II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles 144 1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response 144 2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles 147 III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles 151 E. Concluding Observations 154 Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute 157 A. Introduction 157 B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law 157 C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 1. The background of the conferences 165 II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166 D. The drafting of article 38 1. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 170 II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 171 1. General principles of law 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174 II. The PCIJ 178 II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the
2. Approaches prior to the Basic Law 3. Approaches under the Basic law 137  D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective 138  I. General principles in legal theory: an overview II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles 1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response 2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles E. Concluding Observations 154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute A. Introduction 157  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law 157  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 1. The background of the conferences II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38 I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 1. General principles of law 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period I. The PCIJ II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			2 .	131
3. Approaches under the Basic law  D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective  I. General principles in legal theory: an overview  II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			2. Approaches prior to the Basic Law
D. Characteristics of general principles of law from a comparative historical perspective 138  I. General principles in legal theory: an overview 140  II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles 144  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response 144  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles 147  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles 151  E. Concluding Observations 154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute 157  A. Introduction 157  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law 157  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 164  I. The background of the conferences 165  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166  D. The drafting of article 38 170  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 170  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 171  Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178  I. The PCIJ 178  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the historical perspective  I. General principles in legal theory: an overview  II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  II. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	D	Cha		10,
I. General principles in legal theory: an overview II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	٠.			138
II. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  157  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  157  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			• • normativity of general principles  1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the				110
1. Reflections on the scholarship of Josef Esser and Hans Kelsen's response 2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 1. General principles of law 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period I. The PCIJ II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		11.		144
Kelsen's response  2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			, , ,	177
2. Conceptualizations of legal validity and different degrees of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			•	144
of normativity of general principles  III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles  E. Concluding Observations  151  E. Concluding Observations  152  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  157  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  157  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  164  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  I. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			•	177
III. Assessment: recognizing the multifaceted character of general principles 151  E. Concluding Observations 154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute 157  A. Introduction 157  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law 157  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 164  I. The background of the conferences 165  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166  D. The drafting of article 38 170  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 170  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 171  1. General principles of law 171  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178  I. The PCIJ 178  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the				147
general principles E. Concluding Observations 154 Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute 157 A. Introduction 158 The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law 157 C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 164 I. The background of the conferences 165 II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166 D. The drafting of article 38 170 I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 1. General principles of law 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174 E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178 I. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		ш		14/
E. Concluding Observations  154  Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute 157  A. Introduction 158  The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law 157  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 164  I. The background of the conferences 165  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166  D. The drafting of article 38 170  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 170  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 171 1. General principles of law 171 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178  I. The PCIJ 178  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		111.	 	151
Chapter 3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute  A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  I. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	E	Con
<ul> <li>A. Introduction  B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  I. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the</li> </ul>	Ŀ.	Con	cluding Observations	134
B. The positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  I. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	Ch	apteı	3: Historical Perspectives on article 38 PCIJ Statute	157
conceptions of law  C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907  I. The background of the conferences  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period  I. The PCIJ  I. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	A.	Intr	oduction	157
C. Institutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907 164  I. The background of the conferences 165  II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166  D. The drafting of article 38 170  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 170  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 171  1. General principles of law 171  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178  I. The PCIJ 178  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	B.	The	positivist climate: the doctrinal interest in treaties and general
1907 I. The background of the conferences II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166 D. The drafting of article 38 I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 1. General principles of law 171 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174 E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178 I. The PCIJ 178 II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		con	ceptions of law	157
1907 I. The background of the conferences II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166 D. The drafting of article 38 I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 1. General principles of law 171 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174 E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178 I. The PCIJ 178 II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	C.	Inst	itutional Background: The Hague Conferences of 1899 and
II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166  D. The drafting of article 38 170  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 170  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 171  1. General principles of law 171  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178  I. The PCIJ 178  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the				164
II. The provisions on applicable law and the recognition of three sources 166  D. The drafting of article 38 170  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work 170  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 171  1. General principles of law 171  2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174  E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178  I. The PCIJ 178  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		I.	The background of the conferences	165
three sources  D. The drafting of article 38  I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work  II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists  1. General principles of law  1. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  1. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources  1. The PCIJ  I. The PCIJ  II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		II.
<ul> <li>I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work</li> <li>II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists</li> <li>1. General principles of law</li> <li>2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources</li> <li>E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period</li> <li>I. The PCIJ</li> <li>II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the</li> </ul>				166
<ul> <li>I. Triad of sources in the preparatory work</li> <li>II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists</li> <li>1. General principles of law</li> <li>2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources</li> <li>E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period</li> <li>I. The PCIJ</li> <li>II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the</li> </ul>	D.	The	drafting of article 38	170
II. The discussion in the Advisory Committee of Jurists 1. General principles of law 171 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174 E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178 I. The PCIJ 178 II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the				170
1. General principles of law 171 2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174 E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178 I. The PCIJ 178 II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the		II.		171
2. The discussion of the interrelationship of sources 174 E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period 178 I. The PCIJ 178 II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the			· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	171
<ul> <li>E. Constructing the Interrelationship in the interwar period</li> <li>I. The PCIJ</li> <li>II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the</li> </ul>				174
<ul><li>I. The PCIJ 178</li><li>II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the</li></ul>	E.	Con	 -
II. The 1930 Codification Conference and the discussion of the	_,
				5
			sources	182

	III.	The inter-war scholarship on the interrelationship of sources	186
		1. Overview	186
		2. Dionisio Anzilotti	189
		3. Georges Scelle	192
		4. Hans Kelsen	195
		a. Legal-theoretical overview	196
		b. The interrelationship of sources within the Stufenbau	198
		aa. Customary international law	199
		bb. Treaties as a product of the international community	200
		cc. General principles of law	202
		5. Alfred Verdross	203
		6. Hersch Lauterpacht	207
F.	Con	cluding Observations	211
Ch	apter	4: Concluding observations on the comparative and historical
	1	perspectives	215
C.	Inst	itutional Perspectives
Ch	ontor	5. The International Court of Justice	221
		5: The International Court of Justice oduction	221
			223
D.		rd-party intervention and the interrelationship of sources	223
	I. II.	The general regime: Articles 59, 62, 63 and 66 ICJ Statute The Court's practice to interventions under article 62 ICJ	224
	11.		226
		Statute: from a restrictive to a more inclusive approach?
		1. The development of the restrictive approach	<ul><li>227</li><li>229</li></ul>
		2. Tendencies of a more inclusive approach	229
		3. A paradigm shift? Interventions in matters of customary	001
	TTT	international law - The Jurisdictional Immunities case	231
~		Evaluation	233
C.		sdiction and the interrelationship of sources	235
	I.	Jurisdiction clauses and their impact on the interrelationship	•
		of sources	236
	II.	The application of general international law as general part	.
		in relation to a specific rule	240
		1. The uncontroversial cases: validity, interpretation,	_ responsibility	240

		2.	A controversial case? Succession to responsibility	242
	III.	Th	e relationship between jurisdictional clauses and
		"su	ibstantive" law	245
		1.	The relationship between applicable law and interpretation	247
			a. The Oil Platforms case	247
			b. The Pulp Mills case and the environmental impact assessment under general international law	249
		2.	From deconventionalization to reconventionalization?
			The prohibition of genocide and the distinctiveness of sources for the purposes of jurisdiction	252
	IV.	Re	cent Confirmations and Concluding Observations:
		dis	tinctiveness for jurisdictional purposes	255
D.	The	nor	mative environment in the jurisprudence of the ICJ	258
	I.	Va	rying degrees of generality of customary international law	260
	II.	Int	erpretative Decisions	266
		1.	Default positions, starting points and the normative context	267
			a. The Asylum case	268
			b. The Nottebohm case and the genuine link requirement	269
			c. The significance of the normative context	274
		2.	"Scoping" and tailoring of the legal analysis	275
		3.	Shaping the rule by acknowledging an exception	277
	III.	Th	e relationship between customary international law and
		trea	aty law	278
		1.	The Morocco case	279
		2.	The North Sea Continental Shelf judgment	280
		3.	Convergence between the Charter and customary international law into common principles	285
			a. Self-determination	285
			b. The prohibition of the use of force	289
		4.	Convergence of functionally equivalent rules in the law of the sea	290
			a. From a focus on the distinctiveness to a convergence of functionally equivalent rules	291
			b. Reasons for convergence: the vagueness of rules and judicial pragmatism informed by the normative environment	294
			c. UNCLOS and its impact on customary international law	300

		d. Concluding observations 3	303
	IV.	General Principles and the normative environment 3	305
		-	306
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	310
E.	Con		313
	-		317
A.	Intro		317
	I.	1	317
	II.	The institutionalization of codification and the difficult distinction between progressive development and codification 3	319
	III.	The significance of the normative environment 3	325
		1. The "blending of customary international law with the new order established by the United Nations"	325
		2. The early consideration of principles expressed in treaties 3	327
		3. Reconciling the normative environment and state practice: The recent controversy over immunity of State officials from foreign criminal jurisdiction	330
B.	The	form of codification and progressive development and its impl	ications 3	338
	I.	The form of the ILC product	339
		1. The form and the risk of "decodification"	340
		2. The question of form and the respective spirit of the time 3	341
		•	348
	II.	The substantive form: the codification choice between openness and closedness 3	350
	III.	Concluding Observations on Form and Substance 3	353
C.	The	•	354
	I.	1 0	355
		1. The scope of the topic 3	355
			359
		*	360
		b. Codification policies on the relationship with other 363
	II.	1 1	364
			364 367
	III.	Fragmentation of international law: difficulties arising from
	-		368
		r

	IV.	The identification of customary international law	372
		1. The role of normative considerations in the identification of customary international law	373
		a. The scoping of the topic by the Special Rapporteur	373
		b. The adopted draft conclusions	374
		aa. The recognition of normative considerations	374
		bb. The relationship between customary international law and treaties	376
		2. Concluding observations: normative considerations addressed with caution	377
	V.	Peremptory norms of general international law ( Jus cogens )	378
	VI.	General Principles of Law	384
		1. General Principles of Law in the progressive development and codification	384
		2. The new topic of General Principles of Law	386
		a. Overview of the draft conclusions	386
		b. Comments and reflections on the draft conclusions	388
D.	Con	cluding Observations	395
Ch	apter	7: Concluding observations on the institutional perspectives	399
ь.	ъ
υ.	Per	spectives in different fields of international law
Ch	anter	8: The European Convention on Human Rights	403
	_	oduction	403
		interpretation of the ECHR	406
٥.	I.	The European Court's approach to interpretation	408
	II.	Relating the European Court's practice to the general rules	100
		of interpretation	414
	III.	•
	111,	for content-determination	418
C	Inte	rpretative decisions in establishing the interrelationship	424
C.	I.	The construction of establishing a relation between the	727
	1.	European Convention and other principles and rules of
		international law	425
		1. Incorporation by proportionality analysis	425
		<ol> <li>Proportionality analysis and customary international law</li> </ol>	425
		a. Two different constructions	426
		a. Two afficient constituctions	→ ∠()

			b.	The operation of proportionality analysis	429
				aa. The Al-Adsani judgment	429
				bb. The Jones judgment	430
			c.	Repercussion of the construction: the focus on the individual case	432
			d.	Evaluation	434
		3.	Pro	oportionality analysis and treaty law	436
				conciliation on the basis of general principles	438
			a.	The prohibition of arbitrariness and international humanitarian law	438
			b.	Security Council Resolutions	441
	II.	Co		uding observations	442
D.	The	rela	atio	nship between the ECHR and the law of international
	resp			•	443
	I.			liction" and the relationship between article 1 ECHR
				neral international law	443
	II.		_	le of attribution in relation to the ECHR	446
	III.	Tw	o no	otions of "control" in relation to jurisdiction and to tion	448
	IV.	A	trea	ty-based functional equivalent to attribution under
				l international law?	451
	V.			ution in the context of international organizations	456
		1.		e development of normative criteria for the limitation of responsibilities	456
		2.		e United Nations as a special case	458
E.	Con	clu		Observations	460
			C
Ch	apter	9:	Inte	rnational Criminal Law	463
A.	Intro	odu	ctio	n	463
В.	The	rec	ogn	ition of individual's responsibility for violations of inter	nat	iona	al law	463
	I.	Fre	om t	the interwar period to the Military Tribunals in
		Νυ	irem	berg and Tokyo	464
	II.	Th	e re	ception in the UNGA and treatymaking practice of sta	tes		469
	III.	Th	e ro	ad towards an international criminal court	473
C.	The	inte	erre	ationship of sources and the International Criminal
	Trib	una	ls		476
	I.	Th	e pr	reference for customary international law	476

	1.	Customary international law and individual responsibility for war crimes in non-international armed conflicts	477
	2.	Source preferences: customary international law and alternative avenues	479
II.	Int	erpretative decisions and normative considerations in the entification of customary international law and general
		nciples of law	485
	1.	·	485
	2.
		international law and the normative environment	487
		a. Recognizing the interrelationship and distinctiveness of sources: normative inspirations and functional specificities	487
		b. The risk to disregard the functional specificities	491
		c. The role of domestic Law	493
	3.	The significance of the legal craft	497
		a. Default positions	497
		b. The determination of the scope of the rule	499
		aa. An absolute prohibition of civilian reprisals?	499
		bb. The conceptual alternative to an absolute prohibition: regulation by stringent criteria	501
III.	Pre	eliminary evaluation: the stabilizing effect of normative
		nsiderations and their limits	502
The	Inte	errelationship of Sources and the Rome Statute	507
I.		e legal regime	507
II.		e interrelationship between the general rules of erpretation and the Rome Statute	515
		Article 21 Rome Statute and the general rules of interpretation	515
	2.	•
		international law	517
	3.	Further development of treaty-based approaches or alignment with customary international law?	522
III.	Α	conflict of sources? Between JCE, control theory and lirect perpetratorship	526
	1.	The construction of JCE and its three distinct categories	528
		a. Indirect perpetratorship as conceptual alternative	531
		b. Attempts of reconciliation	532

D.

		2. Rome and the move towards a new paradigm	534
		3. Evaluation: institutional and conceptual competition
		instead of conflict of sources	538
	IV.	(No) Immunities under customary international law	546
			547
			548
		3. The decision of the ICC Appeals Chamber	551
E.	Con		554
Ch	apter	10: International Investment Law	557
	-		557
В.	Froi	m the interwar period to the modern investment regime	558
	I.	The historical connection between responsibility and the 558
	II.	•	562
		-	564
		2. The internationalization of contracts by general 571
		a. The emergence of this doctrine in the interwar period	571
		b. The continuation of this doctrine after the second world war	574
	III.	The development of the modern investment regime after
		WW II	577
		1. Failed multilateral attempts	578
		2. Ongoing contestation in the General Assembly	578
		3. Preference for BITs	579
C.	The	interrelationship of sources in a bilateralist structure and the ques	st for general law	582
	I.	The relationship between treaty obligations and customary
		international law	583
		1. The relationship between functionally equivalent rules	585
		a. The jurisprudence of investment tribunals	585
		b. The treatymaking practice of states	590
		2. Reasons for the preference for convergence	592
	II.	The interrelationship of sources in the scholarly debate	595
		1. Customary International Law	595
		2. Jurisprudence Constante	597
		3. Multilateralization qua interpretation and the rise of general principles	599

		4. Examples of tribunals' recourses to principles	600
	III.	Evaluation	604
		1. General principles and the development of the law	604
		2. The promotion of paradigms by recourse to principles	607
		3. A remaining role for customary international law as community mindset?	609
D.	The	significance of constructions	610
	I.	Competing constructions	610
		1. Alignment between the BIT and necessity under customary international law	612
		2. Differences between the BIT and necessity under customary international law	613
	II.	Revisiting the distinction between primary and secondary rules	616
		1. The distinction in the law of state responsibility	617
		2. The distinction in the case-law of the ICJ	619
		3. The distinction and the relationship between the general law of treaties and the law of state responsibility	621
	III.	Concluding remarks as to the distinction between primary
		rules and secondary rules	624
E.	Con	cluding Observations	625
Ch	apter	11: Concluding observations on the perspectives	629
F.	Doc	trinal Perspectives and Conclusions
L.	Doc	timal refspectives and conclusions
Ch	apter	12: Doctrinal perspectives on and discussions of the interrelationship of sources	635
A.	Intro	oduction	635
В.	Shif	ting research interests in specific sources	635
	I.	The early interest in general principles of law prior to the rise of codification conventions	635
	II.	Different approaches to new norms	639
		1. Roberto Ago's spontaneous law	639
		2. Bin Cheng and Karl Zemanek	642
	III.	Codification studies: the interrelationship between treaties and custom	645
		1. Richard Baxter's paradox	645

		2.	Anthony d'Amato and the formation of custom by treaties	648
		3.	Hugh Thirlway	649
C.	The	inte	errelationship in a value-laden legal order	651
	I.	Th	e continuing interest in customary international law in
		lig	ht of the Nicaragua judgments and skepticism	651
	II.	Th	e interrelationship of sources in the international
		coı	mmunity	656
D.	Rece	ent l	legal positivist perspectives	667
	I.	Jör	g Kammerhofer	667
	II.	Jea	n d'Aspremont	672
E.	Con	cluc	ling Observations	677
Ch	apter	13:	Concluding observations	679
A.	Refl	ecti	ons on the interrelationship of sources	679
	I.	Th	e interrelationship of sources as a focus of research	679
	II.	Fo	rms of interplay and convergences	681
	III.	Th	e institutionalization and the interrelationship	683
	IV.	Cu	stomary international law	686
	V.	Tre	eaties	689
	VI.	Ge	neral principles	691
	VII.	Th	e distinctiveness of sources and their interrelations	694
	VIII	.Th	e politics in relation to the interrelationship of sources	697
	IX.	Th	e interrelationship of sources and general international law	701
В.	Con	clus	sions	704
Bił	oliogi	raph	y	707
Ind	lex			841